

ORDINANCE NO. 72
#####

An Ordinance granting to Joseph A. Wilson, his successors or assigns, the right to lay water pipes and mains through the streets, alleys and public grounds of the City of Hood River, for the purpose of conveying water for power and domestic purposes.

The City of Hood River does ordain as follows:-

Section One. That Joseph A. Wilson, his successors or assigns, is hereby granted the privilege and right of laying mains and pipes, underground, in or through the streets, alleys and public grounds of the City of Hood River, for the purpose of conveying water for power and domestic purposes, under the conditions and rights hereinafter set forth.

Section Two. All mains and pipes for conducting water, which may or shall be laid by said Joseph A. Wilson, pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance, shall be laid not less than one foot below the grades of streets as now established, and when any mains and pipes are laid by said Joseph A. Wilson, as hereinafter provided, the streets, alleys or other public grounds where the same are placed, shall, without unnecessary delay, be put in as good condition by said Joseph A. Wilson as before they were excavated for such purposes. And the laying of all such mains and pipes shall be subject to the reasonable supervision of the Common Council.

Section Three. This ordinance shall not be construed as in any sense granting to said Joseph A. Wilson, his successors or assigns, an exclusive franchise.
